

I Am Smart – Understanding Learning Styles To Minimize the Focus on Disability

This presentation will highlight the importance of learning styles – not disability. The current focus on disability limits potential and hinders understanding how a person best learns.

The presenter will focus on various learning styles and how to adapt environments, information and people to assist in maximizing human potential.